Harrison—Provides Material Take-offs Per Customer Drawings

Harrison SUPERDUCT® systems are fabricated to your specifications. Harrison SUPERDUCT® is offered from 2" to 60" in PVC, CPVC, PP and PVDF materials.

Complete piping and fittings systems are available for air and pollution control systems.

The Harrison Advantage

Harrison's experienced team provides complete material take-offs per customer drawings. Round and rectangular duct pipe and fittings made to SMACNA specifications. Harrison can fabricate nearly any size or shape fitting. With over 40 years of experience, they know what works.

Reduce Installation Costs

Harrison can pre-build large sections of your PVC duct fume exhaust system to reduce your installation costs. Flanged, socket, and plain-end sections available. Support your Harrison SUPERDUCT® fume exhaust system with Harrison's custom PVC duct support brackets.

Harrison SUPERDUCT® offers a complete range of PVC and CPVC duct fittings for the installation of venting and fume exhaust scrubbing PVC duct systems that includes tanks, fume collectors, scrubbers, and mist eliminators. ## Robert Ackerly Builds Van's RV-12 Aircraft

The students at Montgomery High School in Montgomery, TX built two Van's RV-12 Aircraft that were certified by the FAA. Both airplanes were constructed as part of the school's Aerospace Engineering course and have been flown by the students and their teacher. The builds were made possible through the Eagle's Nest Project. Eagle's Nest Projects utilizes an extensive network of mentors and educators who live their motto, "Mentors build the student...students build the Aircraft". Every aspect of construction, sheet metal, fiberglass, wiring, and engine controls are completed by the students. One of these students is Kathleen's son, Robert Ackerly. Robert is an incoming Senior at MHS and built the plane his Sophomore year. To be able to say he built his first airplane at 15 years old is a great accomplishment. Robert intends to pursue an Aerospace Engineering Degree at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Daytona Beach, FL.
